

To potential puppy owners:

I have known Rory O'Neill for over three years. During that time I have developed a deep respect for her professional ability as well as her genuine love for animals. Rory's talent and commitment have been invaluable in training my two "rescue" older labs and, most recently, my six week old lab puppy. Rory's coaching is practical, easy to follow, and get results using positive techniques. Although serious behavioral issues take time and require consistent training, I have experienced amazing positive changes in our dogs after working with Rory. For example, Rory spent several hours working with our new puppy Ella and me, and with her guidance, I was able to work with my puppy in a manner that best suited Ella's personality. Most importantly, I can continue to train Ella as she grows using the basic instructions Rory gave me. In view of the calibre of the services provided, I also find Rory's fees to be fair and quite reasonable.

Sincerely,

Barbara A. Stoops
