

Dear Rory O'Neill,

I was visiting your site to see if there was an application form for Volunteering and I thought I'd fire you off an e-mail asking if you need help with anything I can do. I live in North Vancouver BC and truth be told I have always had a love for all animals big and small and once I was able to support being able to get a cat, I got my first cat, Butters.

Now I have two cats and our neighbors little kitten I go and pick up each day so she can play with my boys. I have been wanting to adopt a dog and would like to offer my services in helping dogs find a forever home. I am a game designer so if any graphic material is needed I can offer my services. I am also a very active person & I would love to help walk or care for dogs. I have no experience with them but I am a fast learner. Hope to hear from you soon. I am so thankful for having places like 'Rocky Mountain Animal Rescue' who help so many in need.

Sincerely,

Alexia Tryfon
